McLAUGHLIN ADMITS PART IN BREMER CASE

Alleged Dillinger Mob Eludes Illinois Police

DISTRICT MUSIC TOURNEY HERE NEXT SATURDAY

SCHOOLS OF CENTRAL WISCONSIN TO COMPETE IN BAND, ORCHESTRA AND VOCAL CONTESTS PRELIMIARY TO STATE MEET.

Close to 1,000 high school students from various central Wisconsin communities will congregate in Wisconsin Rapids next Saturday, May 5, when this city is host to the district school music tournament, winners of which will participate in the state tourney at Green Bay May 18 and 19.

Nine Schools Entered

Nine schools have registered for competition in the local meet up to the present time, according to Principal A. A. Ritchay of Lincoln high school, and there is a possibility that several more will enter before Saturday. Those already registered are Antigo, Almond, Amherst, Nekoosa, Port Edwards, Stevens Point, Rib Lake, Westfield and Wisconsin Rapids.

Two years ago Wisconsin Rapids was host to the state band and orchestra tournament, one of the largest and most successful in the history of school music work. Although the district tournament next Saturday will be much smaller in regard to number of entrants, those in charge express the belief that the caliber of competition will compare favorably with the 1932 state meet.

Parade in Afternoon

Features of the district tournament will be the parade and marching contest Saturday afternoon, and the program at Lincoln field house in the evening, at which time, in all probability, Stevens Point, the only Class A band entered, will play for its rating.

The day's events will include band and orchestra selections, ensembles of various kinds, instrumental solos, choruses and vocal solos. The complete program will be announced later in the week.

Norris Fights in Vain

Ickes Fools Bidders

Choice of Tickets

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Senator George Norris fought and bled in vain for a law that would keep politics out of the Home Loan system.

But just as tough as any law, the politicians who killed the Norris amendment are going to find, is Chairman John H. Fahey of HOLC. About the time you begin to notice camels leaping through needle-eyes without grazing a hair, you'll find Fahey welcoming incompetent Democrats into his organization.

This will be news to you, but since Fahey took hold last November he has gotten rid of seven state directors who were weak sisters or worse.

HOLC under the politician who preceded him was becoming a national scandal. Under Fahey, regardless of Congress, jobs are being given out on a sheer merit basis and loans handled efficiently in accordance with need.

Graft and politicians were found in one of the biggest states and Fahey started sharpening his axe for the state director.

One of Jim Farley,'s aides phoned and told the chairman not to do anything until the boss came back to town.

Fahey called a meeting of his board and fired the man that afternoon.

He is a handsome, white-bearded, but active Massachusetts publisher and business man, a former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. He did much to carry Massachusetts for Roosevelt in

Mather Fire Warden Dies Fighting Fire

Sparta, Wis., April 30.—(AP)—Maynard Churchill, 55, fire warden at Mather, died Sunday afternoon from a heart attack induced by suffocation from dense smoke as he led a crew of CCC youths and volunteers from Sparta in battling an extensive brush fire between Shennington and Cutler, on the extreme eastern edge of Monroe county and extending into Juneau county.

Churchill and several others had extinguished one fire and were walking up a hill to another fire when Churchill collapsed. He died immediately.

The fires began Sunday noon and burned fiercely over a wide area between Shennington and Cutler, which are about six miles apart. Most of the land is in the "Wisconsin badlands." The only loss reported was that of a barn filled with hay.

HUNT NELSON IN MADISON REGION

REPORT THAT "BABY FACE" WAS SEEN DRIVING CAR NEAR CAPITAL BRINGS OUT SCORES OF DEPUTIES.

Madison, Wis., April 30—(AP)—Scores of deputies, vigilantes and federal agents armed with shotguns, rifles and revolvers today searched the highways and by-ways of Dane county and southern Wisconsin for George (Baby Face) Nelson, Dillinger gangster, following a report that a car similar to one he is believed to be driving was seen near here last night.

Seen by County Official

Randall Elmer, Green County district attorney, told of seeing the car. Sheriff Fred T. Finn of Dane county immediately sent deputies to the vicinity of Dayton where the car was seen.

Meanwhile, the guard over three Dillinger "molls" being held in the Dane county jail under $50,000 bond each under a warrant charging with aiding persons named in a federal warrant, was increased.

One of the girls, who gave the name of Marian Marr, is said to be the wife of Nelson and this caused authorities to take added precautions against a jail delivery. The girls' case is scheduled to be heard by a federal grand jury May 7.

License Covered With Weeds

District Attorney Elmer said his suspicions were aroused when he noticed the 1933 Wisconsin license plate on the car covered with weeds. The car which Nelson purchased at Marshfield carried 1933 plates. The car reduced its speed to let Elmer pass and as he did so the driver switched a spotlight on the occupants of the district attorney's machine. Then the car quickly turned off the main highway to a little traveled side road, Elmer said.

At Watertown police received a report that Nelson was seen early today by a farmer on a sideroad. A squad of officers was sent to search roads in the vicinity.

Ernie Stevens Is Sheriff Candidate

Ernie Stevens, Nekoosa, who was undersheriff from August, 1931, until January 1, 1933, today announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff in the fall primaries. Mr. Stevens, who is a nephew of S. L. Stevens, former sheriff, has lived in Nekoosa for the past 35 years. He has been engaged in the automobile business there for the last 20 years. He became undersheriff when his uncle was appointed sheriff to succeed the late William Berg, who was killed in an automobile accident while transporting a prisoner to Waupun.

Mr. Stevens stated today that he had held only one public office, that of undersheriff, and that he had never been a candidate for public office before. He is the first person to make public announcement of his candidacy for a county office.

Lake Navigation Officially Opened

GANG DISARMS OFFICERS AFTER TWO-MILE CHASE

SKIRMISH COMES AS RUMOR OF DILLINGER'S DEATH GAINS CIRCULATION; REPORT NELSON SEEN NEAR MADISON.

San Antonio, Tex., April 30—(AP)— In a written statement to department of justice agents here, H. S. Lebman, gun shop operator, today admitted he had sold machine guns and other deadly weapons to henchmen of John Dillinger, outlaw.

Chicago, April 30—(AP)—Four gunmen climaxed a two-mile chase with a hand to hand battle with police in surburban Bellwood early today—and the officers said one of the four, all of whom escaped, "looked like" John Dillinger, the hunted killer.

One Resembles Nelson

Another of them, said Police Lieutenant Joseph Hagemeister, resembled George "Baby Face" Nelson, the little gunner of the Dillinger gang, and a third bore a likeness to Henry Fox, another Dillinger aide.

The chase ended when the hoodlums disarmed the officers. One of the men hit Policeman Harry Whalen over the head with a machine gun before speeding away into the darkness with his companions.

Whalen and two other officers, Lieut. Joseph Hagemeister and Policeman Gus Mendze, began the chase in a police car when the gunmen's machine failed to halt at a red light

The police caught up when the other machine pulled up at a filling station for gasoline.

Take Officers' Weapons

Two of the gunmen jumped out. One, armed with a machine gun, forced the three officers to give up their weapons and struck Whalen. The other two men, remaining in their car, held machine guns on the officers.

The four then resumed their flight in a new dark Ford sedan.

The skirmish came as a rumor of Dillinger's death was gaining circulation. This report had it that the desparado may have been mortally wounded when he and his pals blazed their way out of Little Bohemia resort country near Mercer, Wis., a week ago this morning.

Receives Official Notice

The rumor, heard several times since the greatest manhunt of the decade began, received official notice last night. Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago office of the government's bureau of investigation, made the terse announcement that federal officers had been "unable to verify reports that Dillinger is dead in Wisconsin."

"We are still looking for him," he added.

"All poppycock" was the comment of Tom McGregor, sheriff of Vilas county, where last week's gunplay cost the lives of a federal officer and a private citizen.

"Everyone who was at the Little Bohemia resort when the shooting started has been accounted for," the sheriff said.

No Time for Burial

"The gang didn't have time to bury anyone and they were too busy

40 from Wood Co. at Democrat Rally

About 15 people from Wisconsin Rapids attended the meeting of Democrats of the seventh congressional district in Stevens Point Saturday afternoon and evening. In all, about 40 people from Wood county were in attendance.

Governor Schmedeman, who spoke, told of bringing back $30,000,000 for relief from a trip to Washington last week, and showed how he had reduced government expenditures by 26½ per cent since he had been in office. The keynote of the evening was: "Have faith in the government, stand by President Roosevelt, and rally to Al Schmedeman for governor."

COUNCIL TO GET AUDIT REPORT

CONDITION OF WATER, LIGHT DEPARTMENT BOOKS TO BE REPORTED ON TUESDAY; MAY NAME NEW CITY ENGINEER.

Probably reading of a report by auditors on the condition of the electric light and water department's books, ordered following discovery of defalcations amounting to over $3,000, will be one of the highlights of what promises to be an interesting session of the city council Tuesday evening starting at 7:30 o'clock. Election of two new members of the commission to replace Fred H. Jackson and Fred J. Whitrock is scheduled. The term of office is five years.

9 Apply for Engineer's Job

Another important matter which will probably be decided tomorrow night is Mayor William T. Nobles' appointment of a city engineer to replace C. P. Gross, whose work was divided at the last session of the council so that now he is superintendent of the electric light and water commission only. Nine applications in so far are those of Henry Ford, Harry Blackburn, Fred Locher, Carl Cajanus, C. S. Peterson, Frank H. Manske and E. I. Philleo of Wisconsin Rapids, J. E. Maxfield of Plover and James Larson of Nekoosa.

To Ask Funds for Wall

A request will be made of the council to appropriate $1,200 for cement with which to finish the retaining wall on the east side river bank. There are now about 140 men employed four six-hour days per week under FERA on the sewer and wall projects in Wisconsin Rapids. The government pays half the labor cost, the county half, and the city must take care of all other expenses.

Fear Heavy Toll in Mine Explosion

Leigh, England, April 30—(AP)—Five miners were known to have been killed and an even heavier loss of life was feared in an explosion which wrecked a mine while a full shift was working today.

Japan to Respect "Open Door" Policy in China

Japs' Pledge to Stand By Nine-Power Treaty Revealed Before British House of Commons.

London, April 30—(AP)—Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, told the house of commons today that Japan has fully accepted the policy of the "open door" for all nations in China.

The foreign secretary's statement was made before a house packed with members and spectators anxious to hear the government's attitude on the Japanese "hands off China" doctrine, unofficially stated April 17.

Guaranteed by Treaty

Sir John said that Sir Francis Lindley, British ambassador in Tokyo, had pointed out to Koki Hirota, the Japanese foreign minister, that the principle of equal rights in China was very explicitly guaranteed by the nine-power treaty signed at Washington in 1922, to which Japan was a signatory.

The British ambassador had explained that the British government must continue to enjoy all rights under that treaty in common with other signatories, the foreign secretary said.

Japs Won't Interfere

He told his hearers that Japan has informed the British government it has no intention of interfering with "the common rights" of other powers in China and has reaffirmed its policy of the maintenance of the open door.

He said Japan had given assurance that she will observe the nine-power treaty. (The treaty, signed by Japan, China, Great Britain, France, Holland, and other nations certifies the right of the signatories to carry on legitimate business in China and guarantees the integrity of that nation).

Assumptions Coincide

In his definite statement, Sir John said:

"Hirota assured Ambassador Lindley that Japan would observe the provisions of the nine-power treaty and that the assumptions of the Japanese government and the British government with regard to the treaty coincided."

Lindley explained to Hirota, Simon said, that Japanese anxiety in regard to China could not apply to Great Britain, "since it was the aim of the British policy to avoid dangers to the peace and integrity of China."

Japan Not Sole Judge

The British communication to the Japanese added, however, that Great Britain could not admit the right of Japan alone to decide whether any particular act constituted such a danger.

Sir John concluded his brief explanation and then, in reply to a supplementary question, declared that in view of the statement of the Japanese foreign minister, the British government was prepared to leave the matter as it stood.

Family Appeals to Kidnapers of Girl

Tucson, Ariz., April 30—(AP)—Bernable Robles, aged grandfather of kidnaped June Robles, returned at noon today from a mysterious errand in the interior of Sonora, Mexico, and spokesmen for the family appealed publicly to the abductors, declaring money to meet the $15,000 ransom demand "will be ready" when a contact is arranged.

Remember a Paul Bunyan Story? May Win a Prize

It was the winter of the blue snow and the year after it rained up from China that Paul Bunyan had the biggest logging year of his career. It was the same year, we believe, that he used to hitch Babe, his blue ox, onto the crooked logging roads and pull them out straight.

Tales of Mighty Deeds Survive

All that happened many years ago but there are still many of the old loggers left around Wisconsin Rapids who recollect the mighty exploits of this great woodsman. And in many instances they have passed the tales on down to their children who, if they remembered hard enough, could recall the stories of Wisconsin's epic of the early days.

If all these tales were gathered together, what a collection of stories would be the result! For it was in the Wisconsin Rapids area that Paul Bunyan began his logging, and it was this same country, once covered with great swaying pines, that Paul always loved even more than his Canadian birthplace.

Even after he logged off the Dakotas he used to come back occasionally just to sit by the banks of the Wisconsin river and think of the magnificent days that had passed.

To Give 3 Prizes

It is in an effort to collect the first hand or second hand tales of the great logger that The Tribune will offer prizes to those who send in the best reminiscences. The Tribune will receive any stories of the great logger which are mailed not later than midnight Saturday night.

A first prize of $3 will be given as well as second and third prizes of $2 and $1 each. We will print any stories that we think should receive honorable mention. Your letters should not contain more than 300 words. Address the Paul Bunyan editor, care of the Wisconsin Rapids Daily Tribune.

Singler Suit to Open This Week

La Crosse, Wis., April 30—(AP)—The suit of Walter M. Singler, president of the Wisconsin Milk Pool, vs. the Milwaukee Journal company and Joseph D. Beck, commissioner of the department of agriculture and markets, will open in circuit court here late Wednesday or Thursday.

Participants in the action had been ordered to appear here this morning, but the opening of another action caused a delay. Judge Robert S. Cowie will hear the case on a change of venue from Vernon county circuit court.

Singler is suing for damages for alleged libelous remarks made over WTMJ, the Milwaukee Journal radio station, in a talk by Mr. Beck.

TROUT SEASON OPENS TUESDAY

MANY LOCAL FISHERMEN HIE THEMSELVES TO STREAMS FOR OPENING DAY, TRYING FOR PRIZE CATCHES.

Are you goin' fishin'?

Those words seem to be on the tip of everybody's tongue today, for at 12 o'clock tonight it becomes legal in most counties of the state to catch trout in 1934. Waupaca county southeast of here, where fishermen must wait until an hour before sunrise and quit an hour after sunset, is an exception. During the open season, which ends on August 31, 15 trout not less than seven inches long may be taken each day.

Many Streams Too Low

Game Warden William A. Cole, who is now patroling ditches and streams to make sure that fishermen obey conservation commission rulings, says trout waters are not at their best. Many streams are too low, while fish in others have been killed by lack of water or suffocated by marsh fire smoke.

Among those who will attempt to make sufficiently large catches to win prizes in The Tribune's annual opening day contest is the party including James Kellogg, winner of first place last year. He, in company with Frank Henry and George Smith, left Saturday noon to prepare for opening the season near Park Falls on Tuesday.

Fire Department Answers 6 Alarms

Four grass fires and two minor calls kept the fire department hustling over the week-end, but no great damage was done and the fires were soon controlled by the department. Three grass fires yesterday, two on Twenty First avenue south, and one on Eighth avenue south, were extinguished rather easily, though one this morning at Seventeenth avenue north was more difficult to subdue, and men were still watching it this afternoon.

A porch on the home of William Rude, 910 Twelfth street north, caught fire this morning at 11:30, but the blaze caused only minor damage The fire department was also called Saturday night when two electric light wires were rubbing together, leaving a trail of sparks, at the corner of Twenty First and Grand avenues.

Cemetery Project Now Under FERA

Approval of a $10,095.30 Federal Emergency Relief Administration appropriation, half of which must be paid by the county, to complete the Forest Hill Cemetery association project started on CWA has been obtained, and 23 men started working four 6-hour shifts per week last Friday. Another $2,000 for materials and other expenses was voted by the city council.

The work, which includes an irrigation system, pumping plant, grading and graveling of roads, brushing, and moving bodies to a new potter's field, will be completed in July. It is hoped that it will be well along by Memorial day.

AUTO INDUSTRY LABOR TROUBLE DRAWS TO HEAD

GENERAL STRIKE IN EIGHT CITIES HINGES ON OUTCOME OF CONFERENCE IN DETROIT, CALLED BY LABOR BOARD.

(By The Associated Press)

Labor troubles in the automobile industry drew to a head today as a conference was called in Detroit, on which hinges a general strike in eight cities.

The meeting, arranged by the automobile labor board, brought together for the first time executives of the Fisher Body Corporation and representatives of the American Federation of Labor.

Vote to Return to Jobs

Strikers at the Fisher Body plant in Cleveland—regarded as the key to the situation—voted 1,384 to 190 to return to their posts today, to await the outcome of the negotiations. The plant, employing 8,400, had been tied up a week.

The strikers first heard Richard L. Byrd, labor representative on the automobile labor board, explain that the board guaranteed there will be no discrimination against the strikers. He also told the men they would not be denied their jobs during the slack season in the fall.

Call New Strike

Employes of the Chevrolet-Fisher motor car plant at Leeds, Mo., however, were called on a new strike today by the Kansas City local of the Federated Automobile Workers of America, which estimated 1,500 men were involved.

The strike was called in protest against the dropping of the night shift on the 5-day week, the discharge of about 40 men, and the labor situation at St. Louis and Cleveland.

With union recognition as their goal, labor leaders came to the meeting from Atlanta, Ga., Tarrytown, N. Y., Flint, Pontiac and Lansing, Mich., Cleveland, Janesville, Wis., and Kansas City.

Settle Newspaper Strike

The strike of the mailing room employes in Pittsburgh's three newspaper plants, which left the city virtually "newsless" Friday afternoon and Saturday, was settled Saturday night.

The publishers announced a "compromise agreement," details of which were not disclosed. It is reported the publishers agreed to restore a 10 per cent pay cut and that demands for an additional 5 per cent wage increase will be arbitrated.

Members of the Steel and Metal Workers' Industrial Union on strike last week at the Chase Coper and Brass Co., Cleveland returned to work today.

Company officials today said they had not negotiated with the union.

Soup Co. Raises Pay

Arthur C. Dorrance, president of the Campbell Soup company, at Camden, N. J., where 2,000 workers are on strike, announced today that a higher wage scale has been put into effect.

Pleads Not Guilty To Netting Fish

Frank Aron, town of Rudolph, was arrested this morning by Undersheriff Irvin Bey, and arraigned in Justice E. N. Pomainville's court, where he pleaded not guilty to a charge of setting and placing fish nets and traps.

Aron, with George Andres and Earl Ransom, both of Rudolph, was identified by Game Warden William Cole and Henry Staven as having placed fish nets and traps in the Wisconsin river above Biron Friday night. Saturday, Ransom pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs, and Andres pleaded not guilty and was released under $200 bond.

Aron was released under $300 bond and will appear with Andres Wednesday, May 2, before Judge George Jacobson for trial. The maximum fine in justice court is $100.

Sleeping Sickness Victim Recovering

Miss Townsend was first afflicted last Monday, when she lapsed into unconsciousness and did not awaken until 7 o'clock the following evening Since then she has had several sinking spells, but she has not remained asleep for any long period.

HANDLED $53,000 OF RANSOM CASH, HE CONFESSES

PUT "HOT" MONEY INTO CIRCULATION IN CHICAGO; HELD FOR TRIAL UNDER LINDBERGH KIDNAPING LAW.

Chicago, April 30.—(AP)—John J. "Boss" McLaughlin has confessed handling $53,000 of the ransom collected from Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker, the federal bureau of investigation disclosed today.

Held in $100,000 Bond

McLaughlin was held in $100,000 bond Saturday for removal to St. Paul for trial under the "Lindbergh" kidnaping act.

His arrest followed the recovery of $2,665 in $5 and $10 bills identified as part of the ransom money. The "hot" currency was found on William E. Vidler, a gambler, last Thursday.

Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the Chicago office of the bureau of investigation, announced that McLaughlin had made a full confession of his part in the disposition of portions of the $200,000 ransom paid for Bremer's freedom after 23 days a captive of kidnapers.

Four in Custody

Four men are in federal custody—McLaughlin and Vidler already arraigned, and two others awaiting the issuance of warrants charging them also with conspiracy.

Purvis said the government had recovered $3,400 of the ransom. They found $85 of it Saturday on young Jack McLaughlin, 17-year-old son of the erstwhile west side political boss, Purvis said. Still more was found in possession of Philip Delaney, whose arrest in McLaughlin's home at the same time the "boss" was seized became known only today.

Delaney, the fourth accused of conspiring in the disposition of the ransom, is alleged to have handled $24,000 of the money that passed through McLaughlin's hands.

Hunt Two Ex-Convicts

The government is hunting two Oklahoma ex-convicts, Arthur Barker and Alvin Karpis, as the actual abductors of the St. Paul banker.

A report that the pair had been in secret custody of Purvis over the week-end was denied by the federal officer.

Delaney, according to the federal theory of the plot, was given the $24,000 by McLaughlin to pass around Chicago. The money trickled away into circulation through purchases made by the conspirators or exchange for good money.

Already Afoul of Law

McLaughlin was named by Purvis as one of the chief distributors of the "pot" taken from Bremer. He was already afoul of federal law when they nabbed him at his home. McLaughlin had been indicted months ago as a "fence" for the mail robbers who made a quarter million dollar haul of registered mail sacks across the street from the Chicago post office Dec. 6, 1932.

Chary of Details

Purvis was chary of details, refused to make public the verbatim statement of McLaughlin and was silent to questions about the report that William Elmer Mead, an ex-convict and swindler, was entangled in the plot.

An income lien for $60,908 was filed against Mead today by Carter M. Hamin, collector of internal revenue. Mead is sought for the alleged swindling of $50,000 from Martin Wunderlich, St. Paul and Jefferson City, Mo., contractor, and it was reported here today Wunderlich had borrowed that amount from Bremer shortly before the kidnaping.

VOICE WARNING OF 'BREAKDOWN' IN TAX PAYMENT

TAX COMMITTEE OF U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE EXPRESSES FEAR THAT INCREASED TAXES WILL REACT DISASTROUSLY.

Washington —(AP)— A warning of a possible "breakdown" in income tax payments was given today by the committee on federal taxation of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The report, with the findings of other special committees— outspoken criticisms of some government actions— will be acted upon by the chamber as a whole, which opens its annual meeting tomorrow.

Assail Securities Act

The business men will be called upon to vote for an attack on the securities act, in a report of the committee on regulation of securities.

"Unless the act is properly modified," the committee found, "there is little, if any, prospect of the origination and sale of new and refunding corporate issues in needed volume.

"Without the issuance and sale of such securities recovery will be delayed, if not prevented."

Taxpayers Won't Cooperate?

The committee on federal taxation, discussing the new legislation imposing higher income tax rates, asserted income tax payers will not cooperate unless they believe the tax fair.

The committee on federal expenditures urged that "emergency conditions should not be made an excuse for government projects that encroach upon private enterprise, and means should be found for liquidating any encroaching activities that have been undertaken."

This committee also added a warning:

"Economic recovery cannot be brought about and maintained by government bonuses or loans to individuals, business or agriculture, but can only rebuild the employment of private resources and energies."

Discuss NRA Problems

The trade association department committee's report, discussing NRA problems, urged that compliance cases should be turned over to the government only after industry efforts to eliminate difficulties have been exhausted.

Other committee recommendations include:

"The benefits of branch banking should be examined anew by both the federal and the state governments."

"At present the railroad rate structure is far from adapted to public needs or those of the carriers themselves. Improvements in rate procedure should be adopted to make possible prompt adaptation of rates to requirements."

Tribune Letter Box

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

Tribune readers and friends are invited and urged to write their opinions on questions of timely interest for publication in the Letter Box column. All letters published must contain the author's name. Letters should be of moderate length, should be legibly written, and should not contain anything of a defamatory or libelous nature.

To The Editor:

I was very much satisfied to read Miss Bohn's letter of April 17. We of the organized peoples now know how black a certain class of persons may think we are, and our leaders. I am also satisfied to know that some will come out in the open, even when the odds and ends are against them, to show their color and fight the salvation of the American people, farmer and laborer, tooth and nail.

Yes, Miss Bohn, I have read with deep interest both your letters and must say your statements are entirely unfounded. You had instructed all others to get the facts before answering your letters so that they might know what they were talking about. What you mean to apply to others should, under the rules of common sense, apply to yourself as well. Your motto is: "Do unto others as you would have them do to you." Well, Miss Bohn, that is a good one, but it does absolutely no good to anyone who won't use it. You wouldn't want any one to paint you black and yellow (although I think it would be a good idea) so don't expect to treat other "innocents" that way and get away with it.

Now let's get down to some facts. You say Laufenberg and Goldamer asked Mr. Kohel to take a cut in his mortgage? I want you to understand that is the doings of President Roosevelt, whom you so highly esteem, and not of the Farm Holiday. Roosevelt said, concerning his Credit Act, that no farm loan will be granted unless the mortgage holder will come to terms with the Federal Credit banks. So you see these words of President Roosevelt are upheld by the Farm Holiday association. You have evidently been trying hard to make the reading public believe that Laufenberg and the Holiday members are the lowest form of outlaws on the face of the earth. Facts prove over and over again that the Farm Holiday, led by Mr E. J. Laufenberg in Wood county, is trying to save this government from absolute ruin by the "money changers of the temple"; that that organization is standing in back of the law of God Almighty by Whose grace we have been given a home to rear a family and do His bidding.

We are strictly opposed to the confiscation of homes by that ruthless, selfish class whose only aim seems to be to satisfy that greed which was instituted in man by that ever lurking demon, Satan.

On the other hand, we have people upholding this class. Why? For some reason, it is certain. In the Smazel-Kohel case it is plain to see. Dear readers, I want to inform you that Miss Hilda Bohn is not taking a neutral standpoint but is defending Mr. Kohel and belittling Mr. Laufenberg for a purely personal reason I will not divulge herein.

You say Laufenberg is a man not fit to be at the head of any organization. Why is it that nearly two thousand farmers have elected him for their leader? Here's why: Laufenberg is a man in whom we can place our trust and confidence. He is working untiringly to save the farmer, laborer, our government and church. You also state he hasn't kept a promise. I ask you —can you truly say that Roosevelt has kept his promise? The Democratic national platform, plank of agriculture, says: "The farmer shall have cost of production." Now Roosevelt is president and he says it isn't workable, after pledging it to the farmers. He solemnly pledged that "there shall be no evictions of farmers and laborers from their homes. If you are in distress wire William I. Meyers, Farm Credit administrator; and if the job be too big for him, wire me and I'll take care of it." He added, "We must save the homes of this nation." In this he has failed miserably to keep his word. So you don't think anything of a man who does not keep a promise? You say anyone demanding a cut in the mortgage should have his brain examined? If I were you I'd order a brain specialist from Vienna, Austria, and have Roosevelt's head examined if that's the case.

I know Roosevelt has done wonders while he has been president, but he has not fulfilled the expectations of the American farmer.

As far as the sheriff and deputies are concerned, of course it is their duty to protect the citizens of Wood county, but one citizen is as good as another under the constitution, so why all the one-sided stuff on the part of our sheriff? They will throw a man from his home because a "law" says so. But do they ever raise one little finger to help a man save his home? I guess not! When our sheriff, Martin Bey, had a dangerous criminal in his care, a couple of bums succeeded in hammering a hole through the jail wall, without notice on the part of those in charge, but when an innocent, helpless farmer was in jail during the farm strike, those in charge had that building under heavy guard night and day at taxpayers' expense, fearing a jail delivery. Bah! Such conduct of public office is right, Mr. Woodford.

I am looking forward to some replies to this letter, Miss Bohn, and I think I can tell you why no one answered your letters. They probably thought it wasn't worth it. You see I, for one, did think it was.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, for all this space.

Martial Forces of Law in Many Lands as Precaution Against May Day Rioting

(By the Associated Press)

Police and soldiers of many lands were martialed for extraordinary duty as authorities girded for battle in outbreaks feared on May Day.

Extensive Plans in New York

New York laid the most extensive plans in its history to guard against violence as parades were announced in which 200,000 marchers are expected to appear. All police leaves were suspended for a period of special police duty from last midnight to noon Wednesday. Communists and their sympathizers will form one parade, while Socialists and affiliated groups have planned the other.

Other American cities made similar drastic precautionary preparations today while French mobilizations gave the country a wartime aspect.

In Paris alone, 18,000 police, 10,000 mobile guards and 3,000 mounted guards will be ready for action if mobs take to the streets during a May Day general strike against recent government economy decrees. Military units near Paris and other cities will be held in readiness.

Red Flags Fly in Cuba

Red flags flew and red signs popped out in many parts of Havana, calling upon all classes to join in Communist May Day demonstrations in which 40,000 are expected to participate. There were rumors of radical anti-government plots. Soldiers built sand-bag barricades at all bridges around the capital, made ready with gas bombs and bullets to meet any uprising.

Austria began its precautionary moves by rounding up known agitators and consigning them to jail. Men suspected of plotting to dynamite government buildings were arrested Sunday in Vienna's underground sewer system. It was there that many Socialist fighters held forth during the February civil war.

"State of Alarm"

A "state of alarm" already had been declared in Spain. There was fear of violent disorders in connection with a general strike called by Socialists and extremists in Madrid.

Fearing clashes between members of the Zionist Revisionists and Histadruth—General Federation of Jewish Labor—authorities banned all demonstrations in Jerusalem.

Nine foreign Communists and one Belgian were arrested at Brussels and Malines, charged with preparing revolutionary agitation for May Day, firearms and propaganda were seized.

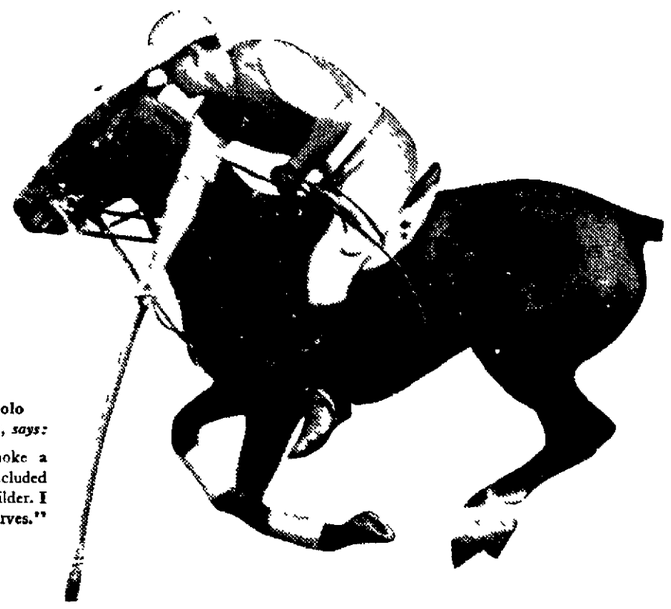
Then—coming home from work, with Dick insisting on movies—Bob's eternal tap dancing—that's the zero hour for a father's nerves! Although I smoke all I want, jangled nerves have passed me by. That's because I smoke Camels. Camels have the fine flavor of the choicest, most expensive tobaccos. And I find they never upset my nerves."



Cecil Smith, who rose to the top of the polo world this year with a ten-goal rating, says:

How Are YOUR Nerves?

Nerves, nerves, nerves! You hear them discussed everywhere today. For most of us are more or less the victims of irritated, jumpy nerves.

If troubled that way, check up on your eating, your work, your recreation, your sleep. And to be on the safe side about "nerves," begin to smoke Camels.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand.

No wonder they are milder, finer in flavor, free from irritation! Make Camels your smoke! You'll be delighted with Camels' flavor...the gentle mood of enjoyment...well-being...and poise which steady smokers find in Camels.

RUMOR IS RAMPANT

Any big event or series of events like the hunt for the John Dillinger gang which grips the public's attention as this case has, is bound to give rise to a lot of rumors, a majority of which usually prove to be absolutely without foundation. People let their imaginations run away with them, or, in an effort to "kid" somebody, concoct all sorts of hair-raising stories calculated to cause great public alarm.

Since Dillinger and his despicable cohorts fled from a northern Wisconsin resort a week ago, the "rumor spreaders" have had a field day. Dillinger, "Baby Face" Nelson, Tommy Carroll and the rest of the gang have been "seen" here, there and everywhere, even in Wisconsin Rapids! How they could have been in so many places at one time is hard to fathom, yet the reports, started in jest, have spread and hearers have accepted many of them as true.

If a flashy dressed stranger appeared on the streets in the past few days, he immediately fell under suspicion. A person with any of the fabled characteristics of a gangster was promptly labeled as one of the fugitives, and the alarm quickly spread that a killer was in our midst! Motorists told of picking up suspicious characters along the highways, cars resembling those stolen by the desperadoes seemed to clutter up every street and byway, and so it went. The Tribune received calls from a number of people seeking verification of such reports, so we know just how wild some of the rumors were.

Such stories contribute nothing to the successful tracking down of the men whose capture is sought by peace officers throughout the nation. In fact, they handicap the hunt, for the authorities are naturally missing no "bets" and have already lost valuable time in investigating false reports.

Anyone whose suspicions are honestly aroused, and who conscientiously believes he has a clue which may prove important in the hunt, should immediately contact the authorities. Even if it is only a "hunch," the police or sheriff's forces will be glad to listen to your story. Authentic information should supplant idle rumor, and it should be given where it will do some good, not as street corner gossip.

A JOB WELL DONE

Wisconsin Rapids men whose best efforts to stock Lake Biron with game fish have for years been defied by certain individuals who persist in illegal fishing will, in common with this newspaper, derive considerable satisfaction from Game-Warden William A. Cole's successful ambush last Friday night. That netting had been going on upriver for several years was well known to many.

Many believe the fine meted out by Judge Pomainville to one of the three men arrested who pleaded guilty was not sufficient, and they are borne out by Section 29.63 Wisconsin statutes, which states in part, "For the unlawful use of any gill net or trammel in taking, catching or killing fish of any variety in any waters" there shall be a fine of "not less than two hundred nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than nine months nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

The three men arrested, however, are not believed to be those who have most persistently and often done the netting upriver the past few years, and the $50 plus costs meted out to one of them in his case is plenty of punishment even for so serious an offense as charged. It is likely that his fate will serve as a deterrant to others in the vicinity who probably are worse violators than he.

No game warden really wants to make arrests, any more than your family doctor would like to see you ill. He merely wants to protect the fish and game for those who take them in a legal, honest manner. If he can prevent violations of the law he is better satisfied than when arrests become necessary.

Those whose interest in good fishing in the Wisconsin river led them to make the report, as well as Game Warden Bill Cole, deserve a vote of thanks from the community for putting a stop to this most exasperating illegal practice.

DRAMATIC APPEAL

A 17-year-old girl was taken to a New York hospital suffering from a rare blood disease. Only a number of blood transfusions could save her life; she did not have the money to pay for them, and the hospital was operating on too limited a budget to buy them for her.

So an appeal was made to the public, announcing that the girl must die unless volunteers came forward to give her their blood.

Within a few days more than 400 people went to the hospital and offered to submit to transfusions.

As a demonstration of the way in which human sympathy will respond to an appeal, this is a surprising and encouraging thing. But it also demonstrates the way in which human need must be dramatized if we are to relieve it.

There is a vast store of kindness and self-sacrifice in this world; the only trouble is that it usually takes a dramatic situation to tap it effectively.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAL who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfroe's circus. CON DAVID, the animal trainer, is in love with Donna who regards him merely as a friend. Madeline is in love with Con.

Five years before Madeline ran away from the middle-western farm where her grandfather, AMOS SIDDAL, lives. When the old man writes, asking her to spend the week-end at the farm, she persuades Donna to take her place. BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, takes Donna to the farm.

Meanwhile Madeline goes to dinner with Con.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

A robin, perched on the limb of an elm tree by her window, awakened Donna at sunrise. She stretched with a feeling of well-being that made every nerve throb with ecstacy. She could hear the cackle of hens and Mrs. Panter out in the yard calling, "Here chick! Here chick!" The fragrant aroma of coffee mingled with the sweeter odors of grass and flowers and warm, moist fields.

Donna crossed to the window and, kneeling beside it, rested her elbows on the sill. She lifted her head, drinking in the beauty of waving corn fields and the golden glow of the rising sun across the acres of growing grain. A man carrying two great buckets of frothy milk, followed by a dog, emerged from a barn. As he drew nearer, Donna recognized him. It was Bill in overalls, with bare, brawny arms and looking larger, more masculine than ever.

He disappeared into a summer house adjoining the kitchen. Donna rose and bathed with the cold water she found in a pink-sprigged pitcher set in a basin on the marble-topped commode. Then she dressed slowly. Donna was unbelievably hungry, yet loath to go below and confront in daylight the unsuspecting victims of her masquerade.

At last she descended the stairs. In the kitchen she found Mrs. Planter mixing batter for pancakes. The housekeeper greeted Donna with a brief nod and an audible sniff.

"You rise early," Donna said.

"Reckon you want some breakfast," Mrs. Planter answered. "You'll have to help yourself. There's a heap to do, even if it is Sunday."

Donna poured coffee from an earthenware pot and sat down at the pine table, scrubbed shiny and white. Without speaking, Mrs. Planter set a plate of biscuits and a glass of jam before her.

"Is Grandfather up?" Donna asked.

"Winter or summer he's out of bed before five," Mrs. Planter told her, "but he sleeps a lot during the day. He's stubborn. A body can't do much with him. Mebbe you could for a spell, but not long." Shrewd yellow eyes tried to read Donna's intentions. "Bill said this mornin'," Mrs. Planter went on, "that you was thinkin' some of comin' back here to stay. You wouldn't be happy. After livin' the fast life you have a farm would be pretty lonesome."

"Fast life!" Donna exclaimed. "Why do you say that?"

* * *

Mrs. Planter's thin lips pursed. "I know something about circuses and show folks. Ain't it fast to come out before people without your clothes and to cavort around in shameful fashion? Leastwise it seems to me."

"It's a matter of opinion," Donna said, determined not to lose her temper. "I feel myself fully clothed when I'm in the arena, and my life is as full of routine and duty as yours. At times it's very tiresome."

"Yes?" doubtfully. "I says to Bill, 'Don't you bank on it. Madeline hated this place when she was a child. She'll hate it more now.' That's what I says to him."

Bill's entrance just then prevented Donna from replying. He looked glowing with health and he greeted Donna with a cheery 'good morning.' "Gosh, it's a treat for sore eyes to see a pretty girl in the kitchen. If I'd known you were up I'd have made you help with the milking. Did the prize rooster get you out of bed?"

"I'm used to early rising," Donna retorted with a laugh.

"How about some batter cakes, Mrs. Panter? I'm starved."

Grumbling at the necessity of serving two breakfasts, the housekeeper put the grill on the stove and soon the big, airy kitchen was filled with the odor of wheat cakes and frying bacon. Bill insisted that Donna should join him in more coffee. When they had eaten their fill he took her arm and, leading her through the house, took her into the apple orchard.

"I haven't seen Grandfather this morning," Donna said, annoyed to discover how the beating of her heart accelerated when Bill's brown fingers touched her arm.

"He gets up with the birds but after early coffee he goes back to bed again for a snooze," Bill explained. "He'll be around in time for church though."

"Church?"

"I suppose you never attend services?"

"It isn't possible very often. Must I today?"

* * *

She was spared the ordeal of meeting any one who might remember the little red-haired girl who had run away from home, for when they returned to the house Grandfather announced he would say prayers and Bill could read aloud from the Bible and that he guessed the Lord would understand and excuse them from services because Madeline's stay in their midst was to be so short.

Sitting in the cool, sweet smelling living room, Donna listened attentively to Bill's low, melodious voice as he read aloud the verses that took on new meaning as she heard them and gave her strength and courage. As a child she had knelt at her mother's knee and said the prayer beginning "Now I lay me," every night. Later in hotels she had read Bibles left by the Gideons, but the reading had been only a pastime. For the first time in her life now the words of the great Teacher gave her something she wanted to cling to with a fervor that awed her. She understood why the blind old man did not "walk in darkness, but in light," why the vigorous young man could cast aside his ambitions and come to the aid of another, why there was such beauty in the quaint, ugly room. Even Mrs. Planter's presence could not dispell the harmony, the peace, the sanctity of that hour.

"If only I could stay here always," she thought. "If only I really were Madeline Siddal and this dear old patriarch my grandfather!"

All too swiftly the day passed. There was dinner at one o'clock in the shadowy dining room that was used only on Sundays or when there was company.

It was a dinner of home grown vegetables, fried chicken swimming in rich cream gravy, hot biscuits and strawberry shortcake served with thick sweet cream to pour over it. Donna forgot her life in the circus and seemed almost to become the girl she was supposed to be. She spoke of the circus, of the long, arduous rehearsals, the parades, the nomad existence she led, always traveling from town to town and from city to city.

When the sun disappeared behind the red barn she trudged through the fields with Bill to bring the cows in from pasture and sat on a little stood beside him as he milked them.

* * *

Then night came and there were more prayers and Scriptures and another climb up the stairs to bed. For a long time Donna lay awake listening to the distant croaking of frogs and the rustle of leaves against the windows. If only she could come back again! She loved it all; the peace, the enfolding arms of nature, the old man with his snowy hair and kindly manner, and Bill. In 24 hours the young farmer who had hoped to become a physician had done what no other man had ever done—won Donna's heart. She regretted that she had not told him the truth at their first meeting. It was too late now. He would not forgive such deception. Next winter when Madeline came back to the farm (as Donna was determined she must) Madeline would have to confess to the whole affair.

But Donna would have the memory of this beautiful day to keep always. She would go back to the circus, to the aromatic odors of animals, to the crowds and lights and music and sawdust and strive to put out of her heart and mind the sunburned, gray-eyed boy to whom sacrifice was but part of daily living.

At nine o'clock next morning she bade farewell to Grandfather Siddal. There were tears in her eyes as his fingers caressed her cheeks.

"God bless you for coming, Madeline," the old man murmured. "You'll come again?"

Bill drove her back to Lebanon. He was silent all the way. Even at the station he had nothing to say, and when the train pulled in and he helped her up the steps to the platform he merely gave her his hand in parting and said he was glad to have had the opportunity to know her.

"Well—I'll see you again," she stammered.

"I hope so—but I don't really think you will come back?"

A pane of glass separated them. Bill smiled and waved at her. Then, whirling abruptly, he crossed to his battered car and entered it. A film of tears obscured Donna's vision. She blinked them back resolutely and opened a magazine.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

Skyscrapers first made their appearance in Chicago toward the close of the 19th century. The earliest known definition of the word "skyscraper" is found in Maitland's American Slang Dictionary, 1891 edition. It defined it thus: "Skyscraper . . . A very tall building such as now are being built in Chicago."

RESOLUTION NO. 5

Whereas in the year 1925 the County Board of Supervisors of Wood County laid out a system of County Trunk Highways, and
Whereas in checking over the descriptions of these highways we find that several of these roads are improperly described in Resolution No. 6 page 45 of the Proceedings of the County Board for the year 1925 and do not describe the roads as they actually exist on the ground,
Now therefore be it resolved that County Trunk Highways K, V, M and N, as described in the above mentioned resolution be removed from the County Trunk Highway System of Wood County and the following described roads be placed on the County Trunk Highway System in their stead.

County Trunk Highway K.
Commencing at a point about one quarter of a mile East of the West quarter corner of Section 9, Town 21 North, Range 4 East, and extending thence Northerly and Northeasterly thru Sections 9, 4, 33, 34, 28, 27 to a junction with State Trunk Highway 54 at a point about one quarter mile North of the Southeast corner of Section 28; thence northerly along State Trunk Highway 54 between Sections 27 & 28 about one half mile to the Southwest corner of the Northwest quarter of the Northwest quarter of Section 27; thence East along the North one-sixteenth line of Section 27 one half mile; thence North one quarter mile to the North one quarter corner of Section 27; thence east one half mile between Sections 22 and 27 to the Southeast corner of Section 22; thence North between Sections 22 and 23 to the Northeast corner of Section 22; thence in a general Northerly direction along the travelled road thru Sections 14, 11, and 2 to the center of Section 2; thence East one quarter mile; thence north three quarters of a mile; thence east about one half mile; thence north about one quarter mile to the East and West quarter line of Section 36; thence East about three quarters of a mile to the East one quarter corner of Section 36; thence North between Sections 31 and 36, 25 and 30 to State Trunk Highway 13 at Seneca Corners about at the East quarter corner of Section 25, Town 23 North, Range 4 east.

County Trunk V:—

RESOLUTION NO. 5

Whereas in the year 1925 the County Board of Supervisors of Wood County laid out a system of County Trunk Highways, and
Whereas in checking over the descriptions of these highways we find that several of these roads are improperly described in Resolution No. 6 page 45 of the Proceedings of the County Board for the year 1925 and do not describe the roads as they actually exist on the ground,
Now therefore be it resolved that County Trunk Highways K, V, M and N, as described in the above mentioned resolution be removed from the County Trunk Highway System of Wood County and the following described roads be placed on the County Trunk Highway System in their stead.

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

COMMUNICATION FROM TRI-CITY AIRWAYS INCORPORATED

Dec. 29, 1933

Executive Committee,
Wood County Board,
Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

Subject: Tri-City Airport

Gentlemen:

The Civil Works Administration through their airport advisor, Mr. A. D. Murphy, First Wisconsin Building, Madison, and their airport engineer, Mr. A. W. Leopold, has money available for airport improvements, but such airports must be either owned or leased by a municipality such as the City, County or State.

The Tri-City Airport is owned by a Holding Company with John E. Alexander, President; Isaac P. Witter, Vice President; C. A. Jasperson, Secretary; E. P. Gleason, L. E. Smith and L. P. Daniels, Directors, with outstanding stock of $38,800.00, all of which represents actual cash investment in the airport property.

A list of the stock holders in this company is attached, showing the number of shares owned by each.

These public spirited citizens have carried this project since its organization in 1929.

There is no question but what with the return of reasonable prosperity aviation activities will increase, and cities, and counties and states as well as the Federal Government are taking more and more interest in such matters.

After careful consideration, the directors of Tri-City Airways Incorporated feel that this airport should not be controlled by individuals or the cities of Wisconsin Rapids, Port Edwards, and Nekoosa but is of county wide interest and should be handled in this manner.

We are, therefore, suggesting that immediate arrangements be made to lease this to Wood County for five years with the option to buy at the face value of the outstanding stock, or $38,800.00, and we feel that the interest of the county in this project should be sufficient to warrant them paying at least the taxes and insurance which amounts to approximately $350.00 per year.

The necessity for immediate action is the fact that the C. W. A. money must be spent by February 15th, and Madison phoned us again yesterday asking for immediate action.

We have just received a telegram from Mr. Witter, the second largest stock holder, giving his approval and wishing us success in the improvements to our splendid airport.

Yours very truly,
TRI-CITY AIRWAYS INCORPORATED,
John E. Alexander, President.

Moved by Abel second by Hoerl that the communication of Mr. John E. Alexander, President of the Tri-City Airways, Inc., be received and referred to the Wood County Board at their meeting on February 27th, 1934.
Motion carried.
Moved by Hoerl seconded by Abel that this Committee reconsider the action taken on the claim of Charles L. Riley for $8.00 and that the same be allowed and paid.
